Capital Traction sold down to 114% Georgetown Gas 5's...

for twenty-five shares today, with more offered at 114% and 114% bid. The sale RAILROAD 1 was made after the regular call, on which thirty-five shares changed hands at 114%, in two lots, one of twenty-five shares, and one of ten shares. One share sold at 115. Another stock which sold off this afternoon was District National Bank, which sold at 145 even money, one-half under the prevalent price. The sale, however, was for only three shares. The bid for quotation lots was maintained at 16, with no offerings under A small lot of United States Trust Company sold for 132, a big gain over the last sale, which was at an unusually low figure. After the sale of the five shares today, 133 was bid for any number of shares, but none was offered. One share of Continental Trust was sold at 113%. After the regular call Capital Trac-

After the regular call Capital Traction 5's sprang into prominence, $9.000 par changing names at 108, one bidder taking all that were offered. Washington Railway and Electric 4's changed hands at $1, 80%, and 80%, closing with 80% bid, and % asked.

Washington Railway and Electric common was offered down to $3, the same broker offering 22½ for it. There were no bids or offers from any other source except one offer at $6.

"Uncle Henry" Hurt sported his new "Uncle Henry" Hurt sported his new bonnet today—the one he won from W. B. Hibbs on the Capital Traction bet, which was rather rubbing it in, for had the bet run a week longer, Mr. Hibbs would have won a hat from Mr. Hurt. For today Mr. Hibbs offered 100 Capital Traction shares at 114%, and Mr. Hurt refused to bid higher than 112 for 100 shares.

A. K. Parris, of Crane, Parris & Co. A. R. Parris, of Crane, Parris & Co., has evidently been enjoying Shakespeare this week, for he insisted on giving a demonstration of his dramatic skill, just before the stock exchange opened. William J. Flather remarked that Mr. Parris, in style of acting, reminded him of Julia Marlowe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.-A slight rally after the opening today was followed by a setback which carried most of the active stocks down below yesterday's closing, and in some instances below yesterday's low figures. Most of the general news was rather bad. The half-feared reduction of the rate Corn Products.... 10% 10% 10% 19% did not materialize, the bank maintaining the rate at 5 per cent, but the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission that the Southern Pacific and other lines that the Southern Pacific and Southern Pacific and Southern Pacific and Southern Pacific of discount by the Bank of England maintain the existing rates on lumber from California and Nevada points was very effective in spreading a spirit of pessimism, it being thought that this discounted the recent opinions that the by reason of the low rates.
